

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI
DI PALERMO

FIU

FLORIDA
INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY

Alta Scuola

Prof. Pietro Columba

Pietro Columba graduated in Agricultural Sciences, Faculty of Agriculture of Palermo on 14/01/1982, with highest honors. On 19/06/87 he received the title of Philosophy Doctor in Agricultural Economics and Policy.

Full Professor in Agricultural economics and land valuation from January 4 2008 at the University of Palermo.

The scientific activity has been paid to issues of business economics, of environmental economics in agriculture and forestry (energy crops, biomasses for energy use, peri-urban agriculture, organic farming), agricultural policy, and market economics. Since 2007, deals with issues related to quality and safety in the food system both in research and in teaching.

In recent years, the main interest focused on the relational and cultural aspects and interactions with the environment in establishing a quality – based, local development system.